

63 08-E-01 Building local market for local product selling system

Hold Holiday Farmers' Market to introduce local agricultural production so that consumers could be in direct contact with farmers. Besides, we launched the city local brand mark so that consumers would prefer the local seasonal agricultural products. It's expected that consumers could recognize the local agricultural products, and the concepts of energy saving and carbon reduction could be implemented in daily life.

