

25. Climate Change Interactive Program

○ Climate Change Interactive Program - Energy Playground

- Children are encouraged to pay more attention to climate change through effective educational programs at Climate Change Education & Research Center, where alternative energy is used.
- This interactive program shares the high value of energy and raises understanding of natural energy for preschoolers

- Key Features
 - Wind power
 - Energy from bicycles
 - Wait! Is that a piece of junk or treasure?
 - It's really bright: sunlight
 - Sunlight is valuable! Solar thermal energy
 - Thank you, sunlight! Solar power generation
 - Oh my God, it's hot! An egg is baked.
 - Here it comes, rainwater
 - Making wooden frames or pin wheels
- Period: From 2013 to present
- Hosts: Agenda 21 for Wonju / Climate Change Education & Research Center

- Results
 - Energy Playground!