

34 Taichung Suai-Nan District International Exhibition Center Construction Project

1. The design axis of the exhibition center is solid green energy and solar power.
2. solid green concept is put into practice as scenery platform of the exhibition building, green landscape roof platform of the conference center, and the vertical green landscape on the southern part of the building.
3. Installation of Solar Power takes corresponding the appearance of the building, increasing effectiveness, and adopting no light pollution material as principles.
4. Solar power panel installation and solid green landscape at the southern traffic lane nearby the green park.
5. The irrigation water of the exhibition center comes from rain water recycle system and processed water.

